Two Men Hurt as Car Hit Trolley

John McCordie and Frank Duffy in Benedictine Hospital as Result of McCordie's Car Trying to Knock Trolley Car Off Track—McCordie to Be Arrested.

John McCordie of Foxhall avenue and Frank Duffy of Port Ewen are in the Benedictine Hospital with injuries sustained early Saturday evening when the Maxwell coach McCordie was driving at a fast rate of speed down Broadway collided with an uptown-bound trolley at Brewster street. McCordie will be placed under arrest on a charge of reckless driving. At the hospital today it was stated that the condition of both men was fair. They were both cut and bruised about the head and body.

According to Policeman William Hess, who was walking down Broadway and was near Foxhall avenue, the automobile passed him at a speed estimated at over forty miles an hour. A few seconds later the officer heard the crash as car and trolley came together and he rushed to the scene and sent in a call for the ambulance from Bongartz's drug store, and also for assistance.

At that time the night men of the police force were about to go on post and Officers Seabrook, Entrott, Aley, Burger and Van Buren were rushed to the scene.

Saturday nights during certain hours the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company doubles the number of cars on the Broadway route to handle the traffic. The first car had passed Andrew Street when McCordie passed it in his automobile. The second car had not reached Brewster street and was proceeding at a slow rate of speed, owing to the heavy traffic.

McCordie was driving partly in the car tracks and partly on the Willette and was evidently driving so fast that he was close to the other trolley car before he saw it.

The trolley car was in charge of Motorman Myron Dupuy and Conductor Thomas Burke. The motorman saw the auto coming at terrific speed toward him, but did not lose his head. He applied the brakes to the car and then jumped to one side. It was fortunate for him that he did, for the auto struck the front of the trolley car with such force that the heavy metal controller box was broken loose and lodged against the door leading into the car. If Dupuy had been caught between the controller box and the door he would probably have been badly hurt.

The trolley car was filled with passengers bound up and fortunately there was no panic and they all left the car safely. The trolley car was removed to the car barn and another car placed in service. It was probably due to the fact that the trolley car carried a large number of passengers, weighting the car down, that prevented it leaving the tracks when struck.

The automobile, which bore the license number 411-178, was badly wrecked. One rear wheel was bent and twisted, as was the axle. The side of the auto was damaged and the doors loosened. All of the glass in the windows was shattered. The wrecker from Van Etten's garage removed the damaged car.

After the automobile had struck the trolley car, it was turned completely around, landing partly on the sidewalk and narrowly missing hitting a large tree in front of the A. & P. store, at the corner of Brewster street and Broadway. McCordie, who was driving, was hurled out of the car and was picked up unconscious. Duffy was hurled from the seat beside the driver into the rear seat of the auto. It is said he made his way out of the wrecked car unassisted, took off his overcoat which he placed over the radiator, and then collapsed.

Both men were carried into the city candy store on Broadway and from there removed in the ambulance to the Benedictine Hospital where they were attended by Dr. Mark O'Meara.

At the time of the collision Broadway was filled with automobiles going in both directions and for that reason the trolley cars were forced to proceed slowly. How McCordie avoided hitting other automobiles in his dash down Broadway is considered a miracle by the police officers who saw him.

This morning Chief of Police J. Allan Wood took the matter up with Judge Harry E. Schirick and a warrant was issued for McCordie's arrest on a charge of reckless driving. He will be arraigned in police court as soon as his injuries warrant his removal from the hospital.

Awarded $300 Verdict.

New York, Feb. 9.—The case of Charles Pace against Gimble Brothers, Inc., was tried in the Seventh District Court in New York city on February 5th. The damage was the result of a collision on Broadway, New York city, between the delivery truck of Gimble Brothers' store and Mr. Pace's Ford car. Judge Prince presided and the jury brought in a verdict of $300 for Mr. Pace, the plaintiff. Pace was represented by Irving V. E. Barth of Kingston and New York city and James J. Mahoney represented Gimble Brothers.

McAvoy Report Blames Hylan

Governor Smith's Investigator Places Responsibility for New York Subway Congestion on City Administration—Hylan Promptly Renews Talk About "Traction Interests."

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Feb. 9.—The transit situation here became a matter of greater political interest today, following the report of Justice John McAvoy, recently appointed investigation commissioner by Governor Smith. Justice McAvoy exonerated the Transit Commission and placed the responsibility for subway congestion on Mayor Hylan and the city administration.

Officials awaited the governor's statement on the report from Albany. Mayor Hylan, commenting on the McAvoy document, from Palm Beach, Fla., charged the investigation with having an atmosphere "thoroughly saturated with sympathy for the traction interests." The mayor called attention to the demand for an increased fare by the Interborough Rapid Transit Company "simultaneously with the McAvoy report."

The only Hylan issue upheld by Justice McAvoy was the need for increasing the borrowing capacity of the city by a constitutional amendment to provide subway construction.

Busy Session In Legislature

Expect Lawmakers to Pass Important Bills This Week—Bonus for Next of Kin and Abolition of State Fair Commission Scheduled.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Albany, Feb. 9.—With the Republican leaders determined to bring the 1925 session to a final close the latter part of next month, the Legislature is expected to get down to real business this week.

The lawmakers have been in session more than a month but have not yet sent one important bill to Governor Smith.

The Assembly tonight will pass a bill providing for a bonus for the next of kin of all deceased World War veterans. A similar measure was passed in the upper house last week. Under the bill the next of kin will receive a bonus of $10 for each month the deceased veteran served, the total not to exceed $150.

Bills calling for the abolition of the State Fair Commission and providing for the transfer of its functions to a new bureau in the state council of farms and markets, are scheduled for introduction this week. Republicans leaders said. Abolition of the Fair Commission was recommended by the state board of estimate and control following an investigation by State Research Director Joseph H. Wilson. The probe of the Fair Commission was ordered by Governor Smith following charges by Lieut. Governor Seymour Lowman that the financial affairs of the commission were in a "mess." The commission went in debt last year to the tune of $59,000.

The Senate this week is expected to concur with the Assembly in adopting the Davison resolution providing for a legislative investigation of the grade crossing elimination problem. Under the Davison measure the committee would report to the present Legislature not later than March 1. Governor Smith has urged the lawmakers to again approve his proposal for an amendment to the constitution to provide $200,000,000 for the elimination of all dangerous grade crossings. If approved by the present Legislature, the governor's plan can be submitted to the voters at the election this fall.

Committees have been hard at work during the last week with the result that both houses will be faced by good sized calendars this week.

The annual appropriation bill is nearing completion, according to the fiscal leaders and probably will be introduced this week. The total cost of state government for the next year is expected to run up close to $160,000,000.

A resolution sponsored by Assemblyman Sheek, Republican of Westchester, providing a city cannot annex territory unless approved by the voters of the territory, will come up for final action in the house tonight. Its passage is predicted.

EPWORTH LEAGUE TO HOLD WINTER INSTITUTE.

The third group of the Kingston District of the Epworth League will hold a winter institute in Epworth Hall of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church under the direction of the Clinton Avenue Epworth League on the nights of February 22, March 6, 13, 20 and 27. All young people in this section are invited to attend.

Stubborn Fire in Kuhlmann Garage

Five Cars Burned and Building Damaged $5,000 When Flames Enveloped Automobile Which Was Being Repaired—Martin H. Snyder Has Narrow Escape.

Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock fire caused by a backfire in the garage of Homer C. Kuhlmann, Inc., local distributor for Paige and Jewett automobiles, on St. James street, gave the firemen a hard battle but through the efficiency of the department and the excellent judgment shown the damage was comparatively small.

A car in the rear room of the shop near the wash rack was being overhauled by Martin H. Snyder, foreman of the garage. He had completed work and while seated in the car stepped on the starter. There was a flash and the car was enveloped in flames. One man working at the work bench a few feet away fled and his half-burned overcoat which he left behind. The cause of the explosion is not known but there must have been a short circuit on the car somewhere which acted when the car was started.

Mr. Snyder leaped from the car and escaped but none of the tools in the shop were saved. An alarm was sent in from Box 77 at the corner of St. James and Clinton avenue and before the alarm had ceased to sound the firemen were on the job.

The shop is in a separate building to the east of the show rooms and offices. A brick wall forms a partition between the two buildings which are connected by a shed. In the shop were five cars which were burned. The Paige car of Mr. Woolrich of Ellenville where the fire started, a Paige service car, a Nash touring car and a Reo Speed Wagon, property of the garage, were badly damaged. They are covered by insurance but the Westcott car of Dr. Harold Clarke, food inspector for the city which was not insured was also damaged.

The damage to the stock owned by the company is estimated at about $4,000. Damage to the building, which is owned by Brown & Dressel, plumbers, who will occupy the building when the Kuhlmann garage is moved to the new location on Broadway, is estimated at about $5,000.

That the damage is not greater is due solely to the work of the firemen who used the greatest amount of skill in combating the flames under the direction of Chief Murphy. The salesrooms and offices next door were damaged to some extent by water but the stock room on the second floor in the rear escaped. In this room were several thousand dollars' worth of spare parts. The office furniture and new cars were removed from the show rooms and office by employees and volunteers.

The ceiling over the shop where the fire started was packed between the floors with sawdust and the fire caught between the flooring and crept to the upper floor where Brown & Dressel had recently completed erecting large storage bins for their use when they take possession of the building. The damage to the second floor, however, was slight, due to prompt action by the firemen. The ceiling over the shop was torn down to get at the fire which smoldered in the sawdust, and the firemen worked until late at night extinguishing the last spark.

Five minutes before the fire started a car had been taken from the shop and driven to the home of the owner. On Saturday afternoon the shop usually has fewer cars in it than any other day of the week and today Dr. Morton Lowman, manager for Mr. Kuhlmann, said that had the fire happened on any other day the loss would have been tremendous as the garage has been full of cars for several weeks. The rapid spread of the flames would have prevented any being taken out of the shop.

A shop has been rented on Hurley avenue at the Kuhlmann of Taylor street where Kuhlmann, Inc., will maintain a shop and service station until the new garage on Broadway is ready for occupancy. Arrangements were immediately made so that customers will not be inconvenienced in repair work during the spring season. The shop was opened for business this morning.

Both Mr. Kuhlmann and Mr. Lowman were delighted over the work of the firemen in preventing the flames from spreading to the sales rooms and offices which will be continued at the old location after a little cleaning up. "Don't know said he could not express his appreciation over the excellent work of the department."

Staged a Fight At Court House

William Lurie and Jack Heaney, two young men of this city, staged a fight in the court house lavatory this morning and were placed under arrest by Deputy Sheriff Edward E. Gaynor, and arraigned later before Judge Harry E. Schirick in police court, where each pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and were fined $10 each, which they paid.

The judge then told them to go, and as they left the court room Heaney stepped up to Lurie and asked him if he wanted to have it out. Lurie's reply was to step back into the court room and explain the matter to Judge Schirick who promptly remitted Lurie's fine.

Lurie claimed that Heaney jumped on him without provocation, but Heaney claimed he had been looking for Lurie for over a year over some difficulty about an automobile.

Heaney was told that if he wanted satisfaction there was a proper method to take in the matter and not attempt to take the law into his own hands.

"Just Grabbing" Her Cost Him $25

Robert Jackson, a negro, who was arrested Saturday night by Mrs. Margaret Wright, a negress, and turned over to Officer Urban Healey on a charge of assault in the third degree. This morning Jackson was arraigned before Judge Schirick in police court and explained that he had not struck Margaret. "I only grabbed her to turn her around," said he.

Jackson said that he had been living with Mrs. Wright for the past two years. This was denied by Mrs. Wright, who said she had not lived with her husband for three years. She further explained, "How could I live with Jackson when he ain't worked for nine months?"

Jackson produced receipts from some of the stores showing that he had paid clothing bills for "Mrs. M. Jackson."

Judge Schirick informed him that he believed his story that they had been living together, but that gave him no excuse to lay his hands on her and fined him $25. He further told Jackson that after paying his fine he was to get his clothes and leave Mrs. Wright's home on Hasbrouck avenue, forever.

"That's just what I want to do," said Jackson.

Mrs. Wright left the court room stating that she was going to make Jackson prove that she lived with him as his wife.

EARLY SUNDAY MORNING BURGLAR FRIGHTENED AWAY

An attempt by a man to burglarize the house of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Voorhees at No. 48 Green street about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning was frustrated when the screams of Miss Elizabeth Forsyth, a daughter of Mrs. Voorhees, frightened him as he was attempting to jimmy a window. The would-be burglar jumped from the roof of the porch to the snow covered ground below and made his escape. The burglar awakened Miss Forsyth when he threw the rope of a flashlight into her bedroom window. The police were notified, but the burglar had made good his escape.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOLY NAME SOCIETY TO MEET

A regular meeting and election of officers of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church will be held this evening at St. Joseph's Hall, Wall street. A social hour and smoker will follow the business session which will begin at 8 o'clock about 200 members of the society attended Mass at the church and received communion. Contributions were extended by the Rev. Eugene A. Dingler, their spiritual director, for the three representation at the services.

Once Millionaire, Lawson Died Poor

Famous Financier Who Stirred Millions With His Story of "Frenzied Finance," Wielded Immense Power at Height of His Career.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Boston, Feb. 9.—Thomas W. ("Tom") Lawson, once great financier, was born "broke" and died "broke."

Of all his plans only one will come out as he wished. He is to be buried beside the body of the wife he loved so well—his "gypsy" he affectionately called her.

Today workmen were trying to remove a big seventeen-ton block of solid granite from the tomb which stands on the magnificent "Dreamworld," at Egypt, which Lawson once owned. Behind the great granite block in the silent tomb is a metal case which Lawson had made for his own body 15 years ago when his wife died.

For years "Tom" Lawson was a great power in the financial world. Millions hung on his very words. Yesterday when he died in a hospital he was friendless, almost penniless and deserted, save by his sons and daughters.

The simple funeral of "Tom" Lawson will be at 3 p. m. tomorrow from a little colonial cottage called "The Nest."

Charles Reynolds Killed by Train

Was at West Shore Station Waiting for New York Newspaper Train When Hit by Milk Train, Severing Left Leg—Died Half Hour Later at Hospital.

Charles Reynolds, who for many years was employed as bookkeeper at the First National Bank of Rondout, died this morning at the Kingston City Hospital after having been struck by a milk train on the West Shore railroad at 6:30 o'clock, and knocked down, the train passing over and cutting off his left leg below the knee.

Mr. Reynolds was picked up and placed in one of the auto trucks of the Ward Baking Company, driven by Jacob Wolff of No. 59 Cedar street, and rushed to the Kingston City Hospital where he died at 7:05 o'clock. The body was turned over to A. Carr & Son, Pearl street undertakers.

Mr. Reynolds has been in the habit of going to the West Shore station each morning to wait for the arrival of the New York newspaper train. According to the police report of Urban Healey, on duty on that post, Mr. Reynolds was about opposite the upper end of the West Shore baggage room. The milk train was backing down, and Mr. Reynolds evidently did not see or hear it as the newspaper train was approaching at the same time, and he stepped aside from the paper train directly in front of the milk train.

Mr. Reynolds for the past few years has led a retired life. As a young man he was widely known for his social activities and was also well known as a singer. After leaving the employ of the First National Bank of Rondout he was employed for a while in the Ustick & DeLaurie railroad office on Ferry street. Mr. Reynolds was 59 years old and a son of the late Charles Reynolds, for many years in the hardware business. Two brothers, William of New York, Louis F. of this city, and three sisters, Kitty, wife of Charles B. Reynolds of Brooklyn; Bella, wife of Captain Irving Chambers of Washington, D. C. and Mary, wife of Frank Madden of the Bronx, New York city, survive.

TANENBAUM, STRAUSS & CO. PLACE BIG ORDER HERE

The largest order ever placed with a local concern for genuine walnut office furniture was recently sold through Wesley Gregory's Manufacturing Agency of this city to L. Tanenbaum, Strauss & Co., New York city, who will on March 1st, occupy the entire fifth floor of the new office building at Broadway and Prince street, New York city.

The desk for this order, which is three tons and will be shipped by express from Hickory, N. Y. The office chairs which are to be shipped by express from Ohio.

The late Leon Tanenbaum, founder of this firm, was well known in Kingston. He built the four landings, entrance at Hudson street at Grand Hotel Station and was a frequent visitor here.

Important business of Leon Tanenbaum, this city, and Little Prince street, No. 11 American Legion, Little Falls, N. Y., have placed order through Mr. Gregory's agency for folding chairs made by E. Schwabacher & Company of Chicago.

LOCOMOTIVE AXLE BROKE

An axle broke on the locomotive hauling the O. & W. passenger train due to arrive at the Fair street station at 10 o'clock Saturday evening. The train was stopped at the Washington avenue crossing. The passengers were let out and waited for the short division engine to take the train to Kingston.

After a few hours of work the locomotive was hauled into the yard and placed on a siding.

Begin To Believe Cave Story May Be Huge Fake

Military Court of Inquiry to Determine Basis of Rumors That it is Colossal Hoax—May Have Begun as Publicity Stunt—Arrest Expected Soon—Rescue Work Continues.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Cave City, Ky., Feb. 9.—An arrest within 24 hours—this was the prediction at noon today of military authorities as the web of evidence uncovered in the swiftly moving inquiry opened to run to earth the ugly rumors and insinuations in connection with the imprisonment of Floyd Collins centered about one man.

The name was withheld, but it was intimated that the suspect was one who had rubbed shoulders with scores of earnest rescue workers gathered here to risk their lives in the name of humanitarianism.

All through the morning, Lieutenant Governor H. H. Denhart's aides travelled muddy, rut-filled road to gather additional evidence.

And in their wake spread a wave of furor and excitement. Over the hills went the news.

Meanwhile the proposed grand jury investigation has staggered almost to standstill, awaiting developments from the military.

Gerals Questioned Closely. The first subject for questioning was John Gerals, reputed "buddy" of Floyd Collins. He directed rescue efforts in the days before the state assumed control. He is among the few ever to have reached the point where Collins is reported to lie pinned beneath a seven-ton boulder, 55 feet below the level of the cave valley.

Gerals was cross-examined at his home by Major Carl D. Norman, acting for Lieutenant Governor H. H. Denhart, while outside the gray murky dawn of the tenth day of Floyd's reported imprisonment brought a rain to handicap further the rescue efforts.

Two Theories of Fraud. He was asked primarily for facts regarding the two outstanding theories to label this tragedy a ghastly fraud, first: That the entire imprisonment story was a great publicity stunt for the cave; that Floyd Collins was only an actor in the scheme; that there is another entrance to the underground prison known only to a few; that food was taken to Collins by this means to keep him alive and he may already have left the cave for a hiding place in the hills, and, second: That Collins actually was trapped and either deliberately murdered as he lay helpless in his narrow prison or virtually killed by a hampering of rescue efforts.

So persistent did the rumors become today that efforts to impel a grand jury at Glasgow, seat of Barren county, in which Sand Cave lies, to conduct a civil probe actually got under way.

Major Norman asserted that, from the examination of Gerals he had gleaned sufficient "to warrant the fullest prosecution of the inquiry."

Investigating Feud Story. Major Norman first directed his questioning to the feud that is said to exist between the Collins and the Gerals, partly as the result of Gerals' efforts to obtain Floyd's rights to Crystal Cave which Floyd discovered and then asked Gerals to explain why, when his blood enemy was trapped in the slime and rock of Sand Cave, he rushed to his rescue and posed as a "pal" of the prisoner.

Gerals admitted, according to Turner, that he and Floyd "were not friends" although they the haze that disgruntled the city's had known each other for years. He said he had hardly seen Floyd in several years but admitted he had ably fatally, when an elevated train ran "dickens" with him and he crashed into the rear end of another car.

Gerals falling from elevated cars in the third rail area of the wooden bridge, and several passengers. Many scrambled through windows. A guard, George Fletcher, was pushed from his perch between two cars and to a sidewalk 15 feet to the street. He suffered a broken skull.

In the third rail big collision four persons were hurt. A four car subway train collided with a three car elevated train at a Long Island City station.

Twenty persons were hurt, four critically, when two surface cars collided in the Bronx.

Fire and police boats scuttled about frantically in the waters of Long Island Sound where they succeeded in retrieving a capsized boat and local hordes carrying a boat and family each, that followed by the mist.

Jump 125 Feet to Death.

New York, Feb. 9.—The W. H. Hambro bridge, 125 feet above the East River was the chosen site for suicide today, by an unidentified man. He quietly opened the door of the taxicab he had hired in Manhattan, alighted and vaulted the guard rail. His body was not recovered.

Campaign Against Blister Rust

Intensive Work Planned by Conservation Commission During 1925
to Save White Pine—Disease Can
be Controlled.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, Feb. 9.—The most intensive campaign against the white
pine blister rust which has been waged thus far in New York is being planned for 1925 by the conservation commission. This marks the eighth season's work in the control
of this disease in this state.

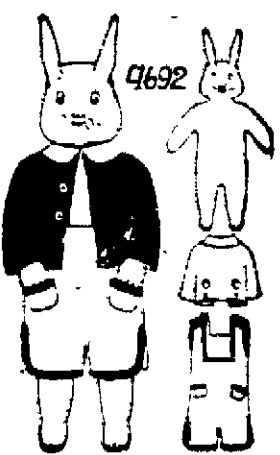

The accomplishments of blister
rust control work in 1924 show
that this disease is being gradually controlled. More than 200 men were actively engaged in New York
in this fight during the past year. A total of 25,262 acres of white pine
as contrasted with 15,459 acres in 1923 were protected from blister
rust.

Of the total amount of white pine
protected from blister rust in 1924, 19,223 acres are privately owned by 160 individuals. In 1923, 10,025
acres of privately owned white pine
land belonging to 57 individuals
were protected from blister rust.
The percentage of increase in the amount of privately owned white
pine which was protected from blis-
ter rust in 1924 over that of 1923
is over 92 per cent and the percentage of increase in the number of private individuals who protected
their white pine from blister rust is 180 per cent.

The field operations on privately owned land must be preceded by intensive educational work among white pine owners. This work will be conducted this year by eleven experienced foresters. These men are federal employees and are loaned to
and work under the direction of the conservation commission. Their work is to interview white pine
owners, warn them of the seriousness of blister rust and to have
general supervision over the eradication of the currant and gooseberry
bushes in the owner's white pine.
Any white pine owner in New York
can have his white pine examined for blister rust free of charge. The conservation commission will furnish the owner a trained foreman to supervise the work of eradication
of the currant and gooseberry
bushes from within his white pine.
Extensive scientific field investigations were made in 1923 and 1924,
the results of which it is hoped will
greatly stimulate white pine owners,
who have not already done so, to protect their white pine and to arouse a deeper realization among
the general public of the vital necessity of speeding up blister rust control in New York.

Studies were made to determine
the effectiveness in the control of
the spread of white pine blister rust
as to the results of destroying the currant and gooseberry bushes in
and within 300 feet of a tract of white pine. For example, a careful study was made of a large tract of white pine near Chestertown, N. Y.,
where the currant and gooseberry
bushes were pulled in 1913 and in large adjoining tracts of white pine
where these bushes have not been pulled. In 1913 one per cent of all the white pine trees in these tracts
had blister rust. In the fall of 1923
when the study was made, there had been no further spread of blister
rust in the tract where the bushes
had been pulled in 1913, but in the tracts where the currant and gooseberry bushes had not been pulled
there were 15 times more blister rust than in 1913. Blister rust does not spread directly from one white
pine tree to another but from diseased white pine to currant and gooseberry bushes and then to healthy white pine trees. The work in the control of blister rust shows
that when the currant and goose-
berry bushes in and within 300 feet
of a tract of white pine are pulled
up and disposed of in such a way
that they cannot sprout, the further
spread of blister rust stops.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

"Peter Rabbit" and His Winter Suit 4692. Here is a well known nar-
very friend, ready for Christmas
with a new jacket and overalls.
One could make the jacket of satin
or velvet, and the overalls of flannel,
jersey or linen.

The pattern includes the "doll"
and the garments. It is cut in 3
sizes: Small, 12, medium, 14, large.
39 inches in length. A 12 inch size requires 1/4 yard for the "doll" and 1/4 yard for the jacket and overalls.
To make an illustrated suit will require 1/4 yard of 27 inch material
for the jacket and 1/4 yard for the overalls.

A pattern of this illustration
needed in any address on receipt of 10c in coin or stamps by the Pattern
Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size
wanted.

FEEDING PHEASANTS.

When Necessary Ears of Corn Should Be Tied To Bushes.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, Feb. 9.—The Conservation Commission is receiving many inquiries from sportsmen and others
in reference to feeding pheasants
during the period of deep snow when weed seeds and other natural food
of these birds are buried.
Except in cases of actual necessity
the feeding of pheasants is not advisable as it has a tendency to tame
them so that they are more easily shot.

Where by reason of deep snow or
from other causes it is necessary to feed them, corn on the ear should
be tied to low bushes or shrubs
where the birds can reach it. The grain should not be scattered on the ground where subsequent snow-
storms would bury it.

A brief talk on the feeding of
pheasants when the situation requires it will be given from W.H.A.Z.
Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute,
Troy, N. Y., by Llewellyn Legge,
chief game protector, tonight.

A Doctor's Prescription—Free From Alco-

Father John's Medicine is a doctor's prescription and was prescribed for the late Rev.
Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., in 1855.

Father John recommended this prescription to his parishioners and friends, and in this way it became known as Father John's Medicine.

This old-fashioned food medicine makes
fresh and strength for all the family and
helps to build up energy to fight off cold and grip germs.

Father John's Medicine has a history of
sixty-nine years' success treating coughs,
colds and throat troubles, and as a body
builder. Guaranteed free from alcohol or poisonous drugs.

Jack Sprat and His Wife Never Ate Bread—

For they c...n't separate the lean
from the fat

These two poor, obstinate people had never heard of a balanced food where lean and fat are so well apportioned as to give correct nourishment and proper weight to each person.
Bread is the one perfectly balanced food, providing a nourishment that results in correct weight; live, healthy tissues
and sturdy muscle, together with irresistible flavor.
MRS. SALZMANN'S MOTHER'S BREAD gains materially in nutritive value from its shortening of Pure Leaf Lard, that gives the human body the power to act as its own furnace,
generating the heat that keeps it warm and comfortable even
in bitter weather.

Just the proper amount of this pure shortening gives to MRS.
SALZMANN'S MOTHER'S BREAD its velvety texture, and raises it a richer, more delicious loaf—so tender and palatable that even our old friends the Sprats would find it hard to resist.

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

It Will Actually Improve
The New DUCO Finish

Far from hurting DUCO Finish, the fine silt contained in ordinary road mud actually improves its lustre. With a sponge and water, or even with a dry cloth, you can remove the mud and polish up the surface of DUCO Finish at the same time!

Duco is made by the du Pont Company. We have tested and confirmed every claim made for it. It is an epoch-making discovery, and the only radical improvement ever made in motor car finishes.

Neither sun nor engine heat can blister Duco. Grease won't corrode it, rain, snow and hot water won't streak it, and it is so hard that it is difficult to scratch. Even bumps can hardly affect it!

With Duco on your car you can laugh at weather and wear. Its beautiful lustre and smooth surface will actually improve with use. Come to our shop and see how we have redubbed with Duco. You'll want this new finish on your car, too. It can be put on in one-third to one-half the usual time.

Silk Promises to Be Season's Mode

Dealers Are Showing Interest in New Varieties of Favored Fabric

In this year's southern fashions are designs without number that indicate a certain conventionality in dress that has lately been lacking, writes a fashion correspondent in the New York Times. They represent much art, originality and charm, much that is strikingly stylish. Some of the style is a matter of line and composition, some is a matter of color. Most important of all is material.

This season's fabrics are in themselves an interesting subject. It is quite certain that this is to be a silk season. The largest dealers spend more time and genius in new varieties, patterns and weaves of silk than they have shown in years before. Many kinds of silk goods have never before been presented.

The latest type of silk is something far in advance artistically of last season's offerings. Ferromiere (iron-work) silks are the conspicuous novelty, in pattern and weave as well as in name. They are the creation of Edgar Brandt, a Frenchman, who has adapted to the printing of silk the designs we see in ornamental iron work, fire-screens, gates, the doors and windows of the old cathedrals in France.

Among the distinguished examples of his artistry is the iron work of the stairways in the Louvre. The French government commissioned M. Brandt to do the ornamental iron setting of the tomb of the unknown soldier.

In these designs the motifs are scrolls, figures and geometric patterns. They are worked into a flat surface ornamentation with surprising symmetry and proportion, and are printed on crepe and silk in the very newest colors.

Apart from these unique ferromiere prints, there are many new and altogether delightful designs. Polka dots are to have a vogue. Not the evenly spaced, uniform size dots with which we are familiar, but many clever variations. Some dots are oblong, printed at equal distances, and others, oval in shape, are clustered according to size. Dots of every size are to be fashionable, the round dot the size of a dime or smaller, evenly arranged, being an especial favorite.

A novelty is a silk that has dots of two sizes, one quite small at one side of the silk width, graduating to large dots across the width to the edge. In making up the silk or crepe this printed it is used with the width for length, and is shown by the importers in gay scarlet Gots printed on white. In blue, brown and green on white. Blue and white—that clear, always smart combination of navy blue and white—is to be especially modish this season, first for the utility daytime frock, and later it will undoubtedly be in demand for summer.

Floral Pattern Novelty. A conventionalized pattern is another among the novelties that is being very well received and is shown in some of the models from the most exclusive Paris houses.

Small flowers and figures are most popular. These in the new colors, orange, red, blue and green, printed on white crepe, have an indescribably girly Dresden effect.

Some of these small flowered patterns are printed in a unique fashion, the smaller flowers being the general scheme. At half of the width which will make the bottom of the skirt of tulle has a background of dark blue with fine lines of white running diagonally at wide intervals. On this area is printed the little black flowers of red, blue and orange, with green leaves.

On the other half of the silk width, the background of which is corn yellow, is printed the same pattern of small, colorful flowers.

A new scheme of colors, distinctly at odds with the old, is shown in some of the ferromiere prints. One that is no end smart has a ground of ivory crepe, on which the scroll pattern is printed in a red brown that the French call "burnt bread." At the very edge of this all-over design is a three-inch border of delicate fretwork stamped in gray and black.

On another white crepe roman a large diagonal diamond pattern is formed with narrow stripes in lattice work of black and blue.

A distinctive feature of the season's materials is the plain ribbed silks. These are shown in the crepe satin, crepe roman, bengaline and a pretty new variety, called folie de sole, similar to radium. All of these new silks and the different crepes are artistic and charming in themselves. As they are presented in the late models they are delightful, especially in the new combinations of plain and figured materials.

All of the prominent couturiers in Paris have designed an assortment of these silk frocks seen at the southern resorts. One creator of advanced ideas is Goupy, whose models are shown in an ultra-exclusive shop, his favorite scheme being the two-piece frock.

Usually the skirt or the slip is made of plain crepe or a crepe in plain color with printed border, plaited very fine. The blouse, which is a straight or belted affair, is done in one of the printed crepes. A variant of this model has a skirt of the patterned crepe roman in a small floral design, the overblouse, almost knee length, being of plain goods piped with a color to accentuate one note in the skirt.

Woolens Copy Ribbed Silk.

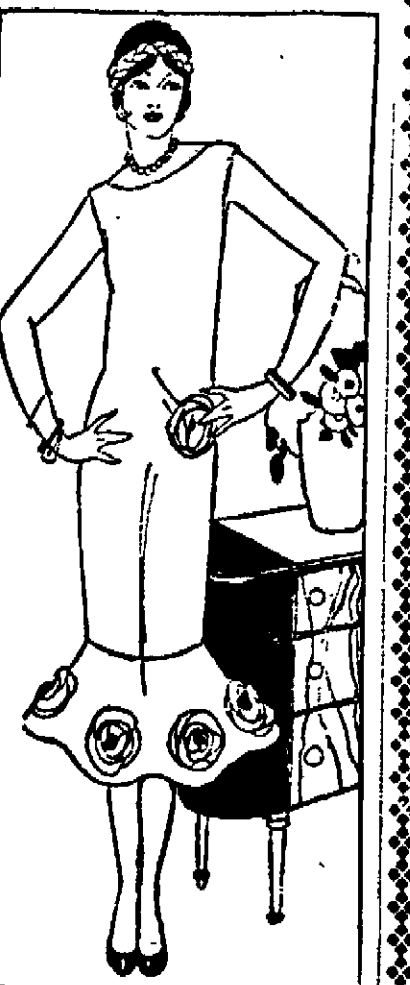

The togs that are required to make a proper appearance on out-of-doors occasions at the southern resorts are quite as engaging as this season's more elaborate dress. Some of the lightweight woolens appear to copy the ribbed silks, and the finer varieties of flannel are grateful in feeling and exceedingly smart.

These are presented in models of two sorts. One is the modish sports suit, that is showy and gay, extravagant and picturesque in its scheme of decoration in lighter weight and colors, though less athletic in character, of the suits that one sees at the winter sports resorts.

Then, again, white is now, as always, the predominating note of the southern Riviera, wardrobe, and much red appears. Suit after suit in light woven wool is made of white, with pipings, bindings or narrow borders of scarlet.

One of the smartest ensembles seen lately was designed for Palm Beach, of pearl gray wool bengaline with an inch-wide binding of red silk and coat lining in the same shade. A tiny gray felt hat in the new soft cloche shape had a band of gray grosgrain ribbon about the crown, tied in a bow toward the back at one side.

The frocks and suits of attractive combinations are exceedingly modish at the moment, but there is in many of the late models a decided tendency to simplicity. Some of the newest things are self-trimmed, of one color from collar to hem.

If it is possible to specify one kind of dress that will prevail at the resorts it should be the two-piece frock, and the one indispensable garment, the tunic blouse. Much will be seen of these all through the summer, after the establishing of their vogue by the chic women who wear them in the South.

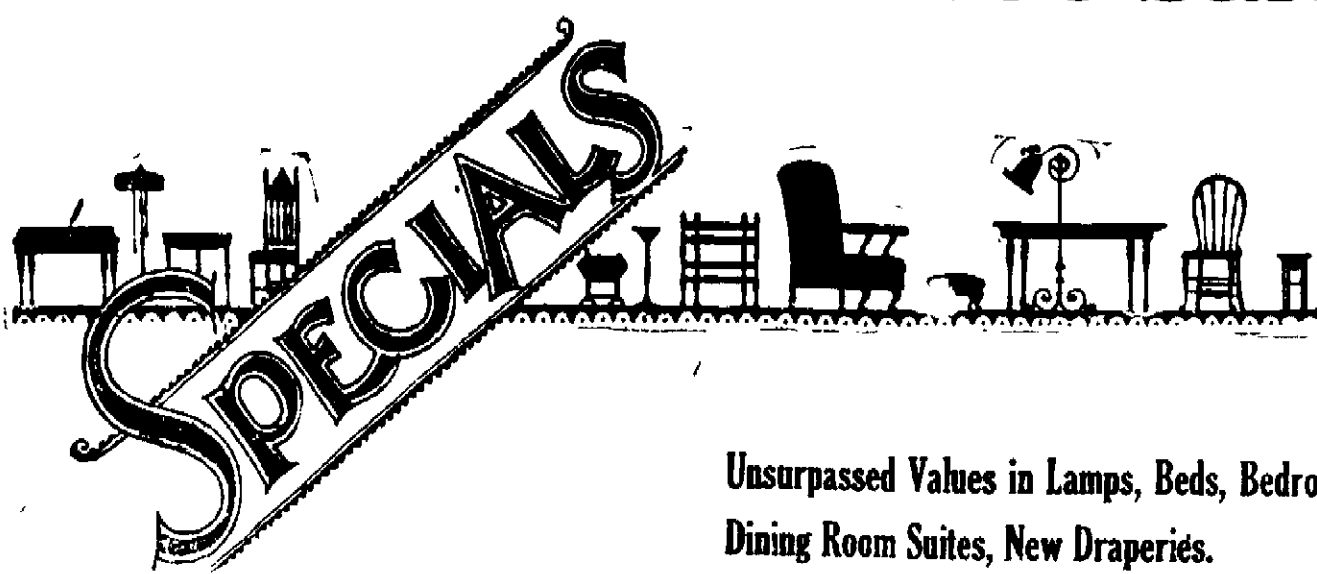

Attention to Evening Dress.

Of the French authorities on dress who have done particularly attractive things suitable for southern wear is Fern Fatio, who gives especial attention to evening dress. His favorite material is always something of the nature of marquisette, which is exceedingly popular this season. He cuts his skirts circular in shape and uses light bands of silver or crystal and often a garniture of flowers.

In his latest dance frock models Fatio introduces, especially fringed feathers and lace. Needlework, particularly the bright-colored wood embroidery of the present type, is shown on some of the lightest and crepe frocks and the fingered gown is all the latest. Fringe decoration is giving in a revived popularity.

Apply Now for Pheasant Eggs

Conservation Commission's Game Bird Farms Preparing for the Annual Distribution Although It Will Not Begin Until May.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, Feb. 9.—Applications for pheasants and pheasants' eggs already are being received by the conservation commission although the distribution of birds and eggs will not begin until May.

The commission operates three game bird farms at Sherburne, Brownville and Middle Island from which it distributes young birds free to clubs or individuals for releasing in suitable covers and pheasant eggs to anyone having facilities for hatching them upon condition that as soon as the young birds are hatched they will be released.

Raising young pheasants has become very popular with farmers and sportsmen and last year's distribution of eggs was the largest since the game bird farms were established making a total of 123,600 and in addition 10,200 live birds were sent out. Game associations, farmers, sportsmen and other individuals who are planning to secure pheasant eggs for hatching should procure application-blanks from the conservation commission without delay in order that the commission may have the quota complete by April 1. Only persons having proper facilities for hatching and caring for the eggs and birds should apply for them. A brood of pheasants can be reared as easily as a brood of chickens, the method used for hatching the eggs and taking care of the young is practically the same as used for hatching and taking care of young chickens.

Applicants in filling out the blanks should state just the number of nestlings of pheasant eggs that they are able to handle, whether it is one setting of fifteen eggs or for two, three or four or more settings. With each consignment of eggs will be sent an illustrated booklet entitled "Pheasant Raising for the Sportsman and Farmer" which contains detailed instructions for the hatching of the eggs under domestic hens.

EMPHASIZING THE FLOWER MOTIF

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

Tunics aim to be obliging, for they may be had from the most severe simple types to the most elaborate.

The one sketched belongs to the latter classification, and is not only of metal lace, but is also heavily embroidered as well. As southern resort fashions become more definitely established, the prominence of floral motifs is evidenced. One is constantly finding delightful uses for flowers and prints of flowers.

Mention has already been made of cretonne and chintz, used as in the piece and as appliques. Among the most approved types are the glazed chintz effects which are old fashioned in their suggestion—the gloss having much to do with this.

Farm Machinery Repair Work

During the Week of March 16 Has Been Designated by Commissioner Pytko—Campaign to Have Machinery Kept in Good Repair.

Commissioner Berne A. Pytko, of the department of farms and markets, has designated the week of March 16 as "Farm Machinery Repair Week," and the department, in cooperation with the State College of Agriculture, the State Education Department and the State Grange and other agricultural organizations, will strive to interest farmers generally in brightening up and placing in the best of repair their farm machinery and equipment.

Announcement is made by the commissioner that the New York State Implement Dealers' Association at its annual meeting in Syracuse, in response to a request by the department, consented readily to cooperate in every way with the department of farms and markets and other agencies in providing special service on the repair parts ordered during the week of March 16. Assurance has been given the commissioner that dealers in general will give every assistance toward making a success of "Farm Machinery Repair Week."

It is pointed out by the department that it is important to economical production that farm machinery be kept in good repair, and it is also urged that it is the desire of the department to focus attention on this project, to the end that a large amount of repair work may be done which, without such a campaign, might be neglected.

Farmers today are being urged to study the demands of the local market and to improve the quality of their products, says a statement by the department, and it is added that economy of production not only requires the growing of the best producing varieties but the use of labor-saving machinery as well.

If farm machinery is given proper care and proper housing it is serviceable for a long term of years, and it is neglected the cost is paid not only in the deterioration of the machinery but in possibly an inferior product. Strong emphasis is to be placed during the week on better machinery, and it is urged that farmers discuss with the dealers plans for repairs, after looking over their implements. At this season when the farm activities are at low ebb, the department and organizations associated with it in the campaign, are urging that the woodwork be properly painted, that worn or broken castings be replaced by new ones, and that farming implements be placed in such condition that they will be ready for use when the busy season opens in the spring.

"In order that the greatest benefits may be obtained through the plans which are to be carried out for 'Farm Machinery Repair Week,' it is desirable that not only the state agencies and agricultural organizations place their shoulders to the wheel and aid in the campaign," said Commissioner Pytko, "but also that farmers make a special effort to cooperate by taking an active interest and full advantage of the opportunities offered."

"Farm Machinery Repair Week" will be under the supervision of Charles H. Baldwin, director of the Bureau of State Institution Farms, and he suggests that the even distribution of farm labor throughout the year is a problem, since the peak of the work comes in the summer and it is at low ebb in the winter. He points out that an excellent plan by which to utilize time during the busy days of March is the repair of farm machinery in shop and barn, and states that repairing machinery or waiting for castings in the rush season will be avoided if this is done during "Farm Machinery Repair Week."

Chief Figures in the Day's News

Below: HERBERT ASQUITH & JAMES E. FERGUSON. Below: JOHN W. WEEKS & MISS BLACKMAN

A Special Texas Senate Committee has reported that the Texas Legislature has the power to pass a law returning to James E. Ferguson, husband of Governor Miriam Ferguson, all political rights taken from him when he was impeached as Governor of Texas a few years ago. Miss Blackman, sister of the famous Egyptologist, is in London to renew her supply of medicines that have won for her a reputation for supernatural powers among the natives of Egypt, whom she has cured of their ills. Brigadier General William Mitchell, Assistant Chief of the Army Air Service, apparently has defied Secretary of War John W. Weeks and made public his reply to Weeks, who had demanded an explanation of Mitchell's testimony before the House Aircraft Committee. Herbert Asquith, former Premier of Great Britain, recently elevated to the Peerage, has assumed the title of Earl of Oxford and Asquith.

"LATENT," "LATEX LADIES," AT PRESBYTERIAN HALL

The playlet, "Latent Ladies," of The Bachelor's Legacy, which has a big hit when presented a time ago, will be repeated at Community Hall of the First Presbyterian Church, Elmendorf street, on Tuesday evening, February 10. The following is the program:

Act 1.—Mrs. Holden's library. Meeting of auxiliary for sewing. Plan to raise five thousand dollars for new library.
Act 2.—Interior of same on High Street. Arrival of ladies after their climb up the mountain. "Something to do with the while I wait here."
Act 3.—Why don't you ask me if I brought looking-glass or a down quilt or a bath tub? "We found a paper which like the plan of a cave."

BIG DANCE
There will be a dance held at the WHITE EAGLE HALL, 100 ELIZABETH AVE., ON Tuesday, February 10, 1925. COLONIAL SERENADERS will furnish the music. GRAB TIME AND RIDE.

A lovely hat with high draped crown and slightly drooping cut-away black brim, was made of such a chintz almost completely covered with pastel roses on a black ground. The flowers were outlined in gold and one huge rose was appliqued to the rose crepe facing. This is only one of the several interesting ways chintz is used, others involving small beads which are used to outline the flower motif, much as the embroidery of this time is intended to emphasize the design of the lace.

One finds colored flowers adorning other than metal lace, the white and wine colored nets providing a happy background for color—color being the dominating interest so far at least. There is always a romantic tinge about the names chosen to distinguish new and old shades each season. Rose of India is added in the already long list of rose shades being offered.

Here is the way to glistening teeth
that dentists now advise

It removes that dingy film from your teeth. It clears cloudy teeth. Start beautifying your teeth today—why wait?

MODERN science now tells us how to clean and brighten dingy teeth. A new way widely urged by leading dentists of the world. Different in formula, action and effect. It does what no other method has yet attained—removes and combats, without
harsh grit, the dangerous film
that covers teeth and which
old type dentifrices do not fight successfully.

Run your tongue across
your teeth. You will feel that film. Under it are the prettier,
whiter teeth you envy in others. If you combat that film
your teeth will quickly glisten
in a way that will delight you.
Ask your druggist for a tube

of Pepsodent. Results will amaze you.

The great enemy of teeth
Film is the great enemy of tooth beauty. And a chief cause, according to world's
dental authorities, of pyor-
rhea and most tooth troubles.
It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. It holds food in contact with teeth, inviting the acid that causes decay.

You can have prettier,
whiter teeth; you can't have
healthier teeth unless you
combat that film.

expect the same results from old type dentifrices. Begin

"INDIVIDUALITY OF DRESS"

Tempering the Tall Crowns
To Suit the Individual

Tall-crowned felt hats are the smartest thing for spring, but the slender faced tall girl and the very short girl, both of whom should not wear tall crowns, needn't sigh, for as new as these hats is the fashion of denting them to fit the face and head of the wearer. The tall girl with the slender face can dent hers over at the side so that it fits snugly, giving her rounded lines, and the short girl can add a different touch to her hat, and at the same time eliminate the "too much hat" appearance, by fitting it in the Alpine style, dented on either side. This gives her height, without a top-heavy effect. Such a hat is also becoming to the round face.

NEW AWARD MADE IN WYKOP
CASE BY REVEREND WHITTLE
Reverend Whittle of the State Industrial Board on Thursday in Newburgh received an award made last September against the New York
State Dairyman's League for compensation for the death of Nelson Wykopp at the result of an accident, November 21, 1922, and granted
an award against Harry W. Dunn of Walworth, Ulster county, for compensation at the rate of $4 per week
to be paid to Nelson Wykopp's
father, Charles Wykopp, during
the lifetime of the continuance of his dependence.

The older Wykopp, now 73 years
old, lives in Clintonville. The son, 22 years old, was killed, worked for Dunn, according to a farm hand, for
New Haven Register.

Alcoholic CasesNew Cases of Alcoholic Insanity in 1924 Numbered 878—Incidence of Mental Disease Decreasing.

That the rate of incidence of mental disease is decreasing is shown by the report of the state hospital commission submitted to the legislature today. The rate of new cases admitted to institutions for mental disease in the state in 1924
was 67.9 per 100,000 population.
The rate in 1923 was 69.4; in 1922, 69.6; and in 1921, 70.2. There has been a gradual though uneven decline in the rate since 1917, when
the rate was 73.6—the highest in the history of the state.

The new cases of alcoholic insanity admitted to institutions in 1924
numbered 373, as compared with 276 in 1923; 226 in 1922; 193 in 1921 and 122 in 1920.

New cases of drug insanity are very few and but little change has occurred in the number in recent years. Only 19 new drug cases were admitted to the civil state hospitals
in 1924; in 1923 the number was 22; in 1922, 26 and in 1921, 22.

The report shows that at present
syphilis is the most prominent definite cause of mental disease. The number of new admissions with
general paralysis, the primary cause
of which is syphilis, has remained nearly constant in recent years. In 1924 the number was 822; in 1923,
813; in 1922, 840 and in 1921, 827.

The civil state hospitals for mental disease which are supervised
by the state hospital commission
treated 50,206 patients during the last fiscal year, an increase of 543
over the number treated during the previous year. The new cases
admitted to these institutions during the year numbered 6,933, and the readmissions, 1,938.

Excluding transfers, 4,396 patients
were discharged. Of these, 1,720
were discharged as recovered; 991
as much improved; 987 as improved, 618 as unimproved and 80 as unsuitable for treatment. This last group was composed principally of mental defectives, epileptics and
alcoholics who while presenting abnormal mental symptoms were not deemed proper cases for treatment
in a state hospital. These cases
constituted less than one per cent
of all admissions. The total number of patients discharged benefited
by treatment was 3,778. The recovery rate based on all admissions
was 19.4 per cent, and the rate of patients discharged benefited by treatment, 42.6 per cent. There were 3,558 deaths among patients,
the death rate per 1,000 patients
under treatment being 70.9. This rate was lower than that of any previous year since 1912.

The daily average resident patient population of the hospital
was 38,382, an increase for the year of 446; the average number of patients on parole during the year
was 3,326.

There were 1,161 ex-service patients on the books of the hospital
at the close of the fiscal year, a increase of 76.

HIGHWAY SAFETY IS
OF BIG IMPORTANCE

The bureau of public roads believes that consideration of highway safety is
of the greatest importance in view of the great increase in highway traffic
and highway accidents. A careful study of existing conditions has led to the following statements of basic principles:

1. The development of safe roads by elimination of all known dangers in so far as such elimination is possible
within physical and economic limitations.

2. Warning of uneliminated dangers
by means of easily recognized signs
and other devices of standardized form,
uniformly placed with respect to the danger.

3. The development of safe vehicles
by perfection of running parts and
adoption of safety devices.

4. Diligence and care in the licensing of drivers of motor vehicles to eliminate the incompetent, careless and irresponsible driver.

5. The development of simple, uniform, and effectual traffic regulations
and the education of the whole public
to a complete acquaintance with them.

6. The rigid enforcement of traffic regulations.

There is little doubt that a solution
of the problem worked out on the basis
of these principles would have the effect of reducing the dangers of the open road to a minimum.

Increased Traffic Calls
for Wider Paved Roads

A catechism for highway users:
Paved roads are necessary to carry
present-day traffic.

When roads are paved they increase
the traffic over them; road users naturally forsake dirt roads for the paved highways.

Wider roads are absolutely necessary to accommodate this increased
traffic; what may have been a sufficient width in the case of the dirt
road promptly becomes inadequate
when the pavement brings a steady stream of motor vehicles.

The greater speeds possible on paved highways make wider roads necessary for safety; rapid traffic on a narrow, congested road is certain to increase the number of accidents, resulting in a great loss of life and property.

Evidence of the truth of these statements is found in the fact that many
paved roads are now being widened,
even though it was thought at the time they were built that they would be adequate for many years. Road
statisticians often have found that almost as soon as the concrete on a road is ready for traffic, the number
of vehicles on the road has jumped
far beyond expectations, and widening of the road has been necessary in
a short time to prevent dangerous
congestion.

Build Future Highways
to Take Care of Traffic

"It is natural that the change in highways has not been able to keep pace with the swift change in the character of the traffic, but it is important that road developments now
be carried forward rapidly to meet
present and future traffic conditions,"
says an official of a big automobile
concern.

"Highways must be built to meet
the new conditions of automobile traffic just as railroads have been built
to meet the conditions of fast rail traffic."

"One-way thoroughfares with road-
ways kept clear and view unobstructed,
will go a long way to solve the
present day problem of combining speed and safety. Elimination of blind
curves, grade crossings and unguarded
crossroads, also the clearing of roadways of pedestrians and parked or stalled cars, must ultimately come."

Police Commissioner Is Opposed to "Jay Walking"

Police Commissioner Knight of New York city declared that if the authority to regulate pedestrians as well as
vehicular traffic is obtained by the police department he will order the arrest and fining of "jay-walkers." He proposes to have pedestrians cross
streets at intersections only and at
the direction of traffic officers.

In Baltimore Police Commissioner
Galtier defends so-called "jay-walking." He says that crossing thoroughfares in the middle of the block has
the advantage for the pedestrian in that he must only look two ways for traffic, whereas if he crosses at intersections he must watch for vehicles
coming from four directions. Commissioner Galtier also declares that
when all pedestrians cross at intersections it creates an unnecessary congestion of foot traffic.

Highways in Holy Land

Motor traffic, insignificant in Palestine before the war, is today more developed than in most European countries, due to the system of excellent roads constructed by the British government and the Palestine funda-
tion fund, according to a report from Jerusalem made public by Samuel Cutler, president of the fund. This type of motor car and motor bus have
been operating between the various towns and villages of the Holy land.

NAMES

YOU meet Mr. Howard and Mr. Walters in a gathering. Their names are to you but two of many you hear.

A few days later you meet Mr. Howard again. And again.
He becomes a friend, perhaps an intimate in your social as well
as business life.

Mr. Howard's name grows to mean a lot to you. Mr. Walters
is rarely seen again and soon forgotten.

In this newspaper are other names—names of advertised products. Day after day you see them. They are like old friends —to be trusted. Their names mean economy, full value and integrity.

The unadvertised products—perhaps you see one in a store
—or in a friend's home. Soon the name is forgotten—a stranger about whom you know little.

Fill your medicine chest, your pantry, your wardrobe with products whose names are guarantees of their integrity—ad-

APPOINT CIVILIANS TO SECOND LIEUTENANCY

By Telegraph to The Freeman
Washington, Feb. 9.—Appointment from civil life to second lieutenant in the Regular Army is now possible under terms of a War Department authorization directing the acceptance into the organized reserves of approved candidates for the purpose of taking the annual competitive examinations.

Under the present law only members of the National Guard, Organized Reserves, and Regular Army are eligible.

Preliminary examinations to fill vacancies remaining after the 1925 class at West Point is commissioned will be held at all army posts throughout the country during the month of April.

Candidates must be citizens of the United States of high moral character, between 21 and 30. Application to take the examination may be made at any military post or at headquarters of the corps area in which applicant resides.

Schubert Choral Concert Tonight

The management of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad has assured the Schubert Choral Club of the Y. W. C. A. that they have ample car service on both lines tonight, following the concert at the high school given by the club, assisted by Harry T. Burleigh, famous composer of negro spirituals and baritone soloist. The advance sale of tickets for the concert, which will begin at 8:15 o'clock, has been most gratifyingly large, but there will be tickets for sale at the concert this evening.

Quite aside from the interest in the Schubert Choral Club itself, a vast deal of interest is being shown in the possibility of hearing Mr. Burleigh sing his own songs. He is the first negro to have attained the musical distinction of being both a soloist and a composer. There can be no doubt as to Mr. Burleigh's mastery of the art of composition and he has wisely chosen to give to the world of music, not an imitation of other composers, but the music of his own people.

The members of Schubert Choral Society are: President, Miss Florence Tappan; vice president, Miss Mildred Messinger; secretary, Miss Jessie Cowley; treasurer, Miss Nan Rodie; director, Miss Virginia Los Kamp; Elizabeth Bishop, Mildred Brower, Ruth Dana, Dorothy Dick, Maude Dudley, Hazel Dutton, Mae Eckert, Beatrice Elias, Zella Follette, Mildred Forst, Marjorie Greene, Jeanette Grimes, Helen Haukenbeck, Emily Hoyeradt, Jane Hutton, Marguerite Hutton, Lillian Hoyeradt, Ethel Jackson, Ethel Kilne, Emily Krieger, Greta Linkletter, Pearl Merkle, Martha Martin, Dorothy Mead, Gertrude Messinger, Katherine Monroe, Theresa Nichols, Hilda Port, Irene Redman, Alice Redmond, Elsie Rice, Lucinda Rich, Catherine Rosa, Lillian Schlecht, Mildred Schwab, Alice Schuehler, Margaret Scott, Mildred Shullie, Gladys Snow, Alma Tyler, Wills Van Vleet, Florence White, Wilmet Elmore Winchell, Mrs. Florence Bouton, Mrs. M. Official Report of West Coast Flight of Navy
Dirigible Shenandoah Adds to Cartography of Nation

THE first crossing of the continent by a rigid airship, the first passage of a rigid airship over the Pacific, has been successfully accomplished by an American designed and built airship by a Navy crew, and we believe this was as severe a test as can be given an airship, a greater one than has ever before been made.

The words are those of Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy Department, again back at his desk in Washington after having flown his pennant on the epoch-making west coast flight of the Navy dirigible Shenandoah. Before him reposed two bulky documents. One was the log of the airship from Lakehurst to Seattle and back—a regular ship's log save that distances were in statute miles instead of nautical and there were no soundings. The other was the official report of Lieutenant Commander Lansdowne, who commanded the Shenandoah on the 9,317 mile flight, and has set down the results in a narrative of compelling interest.

Peacetime Project

"We are much pleased that the great project has been proven," the Admiral continued. "The trip has shown that airships are practicable and can operate at long distances from a base under very adverse circumstances. The Navy's object in carrying on this project has been for peace, not for war; to prove that airships furnish a new means of transportation and communication."

The proof of Rear Admiral Moffett's statement lies within the long typewritten sheets of Lieutenant Commander Lansdowne's report, which has done more for lighter than air navigation than any previous document and which has established precepts and facts that will govern the flights of dirigibles for many a year to come.

Navigation and Weather

Much of the official report is technical, relating to helium gas, to lubricating oils, to engine operation, to construction and gas bags, but there are two outstanding major classifications into which is woven much of the romance of the remarkable flight. They are navigation and weather conditions—kindred subjects.

Navigation

Navigation tells how they did it—those countless hours bounding their native element to cruise across a continent and back. And weather conditions tell what they found and conquered—the untold adventures which presented them with fifty-seven per cent of unfavorable weather. Twelve per cent of which was so bad that they hesitated to turn it "very unfavorable."

"The greatest of all these varied types of weather," Lieutenant Commander Lansdowne's report reads, "the ship encountered exceedingly steady and was fairly easy to control, thereby proving that an airship with sufficient fuel and speed can successfully continue on its journey although energetic cyclonic storms, with strong winds and gales, are met along the course.

A Story of Maps

How they called these unfamiliar air seas is a story of maps—United States Geological Survey maps. Hydrographic charts and commercial maps—and, primarily, the maps they used were made, not for gentlemen who tour by air, but for those who cross the continent upon means of locomotion which stick to the ground. Hence upon only one stretch of the whole flight were the readers asked about the land thoroughly at times with their route. It was the land from San Diego north to (and beyond) the Columbia. They took most of this 1,000 miles by running three miles off the coast, over the Pacific, both upward and downward bound. There they could use their hydrographic charts and their nautical knowledge.

But for the rest of the great voyage—from Lakehurst to San Diego, and later from San Diego to Lakehurst—they planned their chief dependence for navigation upon the maps of the Geological Survey and a compass out of commercial maps of all the states they crossed. Fortunately for them that they had not put their entire faith in the maps of the Geological Survey. These were good, but the following extract from the report gives the limitations:

"These maps were practically all from comparatively old surveys, many dating back to 1816 and 1811. Consequently, in many cases, existing towns, railroads and other landmarks were not shown. The most important omission on these maps were the contour lines. They had absolutely no information as to elevation. Another defect in the fact that the map of each state is separate in itself—that is, it shows no portion

The Commercial Map

It sounds almost like a new map, but it is not. Commercial maps today have far outstripped the Governmental output in the amount of information they contain. The map is the primary tool of the traveler and the business man, and the demand for more and more detailed maps is constantly increasing.

Ex-Kaiser Warns Of World Peril

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Feb. 9.—A warning to the world was sounded today by the former Kaiser of Germany. He commented on the treaty signed recently by Japan and Russia.

"This treaty portends tremendous changes in the world's outlook," Wilhelm is quoted by the London Telegraph as saying. "It is a peril which I alone among the rulers of Europe predicted almost a quarter of a century ago. Now it has materialized."

"France is backing black races, Russia yellow, America and England white."

Made Changes in Paris Agreement

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Feb. 9.—Official admission was made by the state department today that certain textual changes were made in the Paris agreement, under which the United States became an official partner in the Dawes plan in exchange for 2 1/2 per cent of the revenues it derived, some days after it was originally signed at Paris by Ambassador Kellogg and the Allied representatives.

These changes, however, were of "little consequence," it was said at the department, and change neither the context nor the ultimate purpose of the agreement.

Britain's Offer Means We Pay

France Would be Chief Beneficiary Under British Plan for Mutual Cancellation of War Borrowings, But United States Would Lose.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Feb. 9.—Great Britain's offer to substantially reduce the French war debt was read with unusual interest in Washington today because of acuteness of the Franco-American debt controversy, but on every hand it was stated that the British position will cause no change in the American debt policy.

The American policy, under three presidents, has been and will continue to be, it was said, to accord debtor nations generous terms in the way of interest and time, but to collect in full the billions of dollars that European nations drew from the United States treasury from 1917 to 1919.

Probe Tobacco And Electricity

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Feb. 9.—Two gigantic Federal investigations, one into the General Electric's alleged trust activities, and the other into the tobacco industry, appeared certain this afternoon when the Senate began consideration of the Norris and Ernst resolutions.

The investigations were linked when Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, offered his electric trust resolution as an amendment to the tobacco inquiry proposed by Senator Ernst, Republican of Kentucky. Both investigations would be conducted by the Federal trade commission.

Administration leaders fought to limit the electric trust inquiry by eliminating from the Norris resolution the authority to investigate the stock and bond connections of the General Electric Company. This drive was led by Senators Watson, Republican of Indiana and Fess, Republican of Ohio. It was opposed by Senator Norris, who said it would wipe out "half of the proposed investigation."

"The General Electric Company owns nothing but its stockholders own the Electric Bond and Share Company and the latter is a holding corporation for countless other companies," said Norris. "If you eliminate all investigation of the Electric Bond and Share Company you wipe out half of the proposed investigation."

Interment in the family plot in Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

Major Daniel J. Cassidy died at his home, 81 South Hamilton street, Poughkeepsie, on Saturday, February 7, at 11 a. m. He had been a long and patient sufferer, being confined to his home for the past year with an impaired heart received while in active service in France. Major Cassidy was born at Rosendale on February 22, 1889, educated in the Rosendale public school and later was a graduate from the New Paltz Normal School. He was a member of the National Guard for fifteen years, having served as captain of Company E at Catskill. He entered the World War and was engaged in actual service for one year, later being transferred to the Army of Occupation. He was commissioned major on his return to the United States in 1919. Major Cassidy was a Fourth Degree member of the Knights of Columbus of Catskill; a member of the Lafayette Post, No. 37, American Legion, and of B. P. O. E. Lodge No. 275. The K. of C. will conduct their ritualistic services at the home of the deceased this evening at 8 o'clock, and the B. P. O. E. will hold their services at the home of the deceased at 8:30 o'clock. Major Cassidy is survived by his wife, Anna Weener Cassidy, and two children; also his mother, Mrs. Jane Cassidy, two sisters, Elizabeth of Rosendale and Mrs. Joseph Murray of Connecticut, and one brother, Edward, of New York. Funeral services on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's Church, Poughkeepsie, at 9:30. Interment in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale. Full military rites will be accorded Major Cassidy at the funeral.

Know She Was a Flapper
One day when members of the family were sitting on the porch, a young woman passed attired in a red hat, red dress, red hose and red pumps. Lewis remarked: "There goes a flapper." A short time later the minister's daughter was calling and she had on a red dress. Lewis watched her very intently and after a while, walked over to her, looked her over and said: "Well you're a flapper." The young woman replied: "Why do you say that?" "Cause you got on a red dress," he said.—Indianapolis News.

Announcement Engagement.
Seymour Tubby of 75 Abruyn street announces the engagement of his daughter Mary A., to Edward Martin of Saugerties. The marriage will take place in the near future.

Sickles-Norton.
Miss Florence Norton of No. 43 Ravine street and J. W. Sickles of Cohoes were united in marriage on Saturday at St. Mary's Church by the Rev. Joseph B. Scully. They were attended by Miss Anna Sweeney and James Sweeney of No. 54 Spruce street.

Berardi-Cataldo.
Eugene Berardi and Miss Lillian Cataldo, both of East Kingston, were united in marriage on Sunday at St. Columba's Church by the Rev. Thomas R. Larkins. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the East Kingston Hall to which about four hundred guests had been invited. There was music, dancing and refreshments, consisting of turkey, chicken and all the trimmings. The wedding was one of the most elaborate held in East Kingston in some time. Mr. and Mrs. Berardi will make their home in that village.

Virtue of Imagination

There is something romantic in the plans for using an army airplane to race the moon's shadow during the eclipse of the sun, January 24. A high-powered plane, with a photographer aboard, will cross New York state in an effort to lengthen for but a brief time the opportunity given stationary cameramen. Just a minute, or even a half minute more means additional photographs. And more photographs means greater opportunity for scientists to study the most spectacular phenomena of this earth. It is a vivid bit of imagination, but it is only through imagination that men conquer, and, conquering, acquire more imagination.—Exchange.

Take Baths in Tea
Nothing is so in the latest fad of some Parisian beauties. The idea was greeted with great laughter when first heard of, but its advocates explained that their doctors assured them the pores of the skin acted as so many little mouths, and they had concluded that if the stimulation of tea was so good while taken internally it might to have a wonderful effect if the whole body could have a chance at it. Another argument, and one the least, was that the fashionable robe style and the expensive bath can be had at home.

Dick Whittington's Seal
The seal of Dick Whittington, the famous lord mayor of London, has been found on a legal document discovered among a bundle of old deeds by a London expert on parchment. In the center of the seal is a bust of a young man, encircling which is the name "Richard Whittington," and the date 1402. An expert of the public record office said that he was confident the seal was genuine, and so far as he knew, unique. It must have been the seal used by Whittington before he was knighted and received armorial bearings. He was made lord mayor first in 1397.

Colonial Possessions Bad.
The Journal des Debats is distressed over the apparent decline of the native population in France's black possessions. French Equatorial Africa now has less than one inhabitant per square kilometer, and the death rate appears to be considerably higher than the birth rate, writes the Living Age.

Doctor Boys, chief of the health service from 1920 to 1922, characterizes the depopulation of these territories "de plus en plus angoissante," and reports that "tribes formerly prosperous and vigorous are today on the verge of extinction."

According to a provincial governor, where populous and flourishing villages and broad acres of cultivation were numerous 15 years ago, only "skeletons of villages" now remain. Their cabins in disrepair and their fields neglected. One territory having 23,000 inhabitants, in which an accurate record has been kept, reports that the deaths exceeded the births in a single year by 2,425. A larger enumeration shows, per 100,000 natives, 4,470 births and 6,524 deaths per annum.

Conditions are somewhat better in French East Africa, where the population is denser—about 3.5 inhabitants per square kilometer—but unequally distributed. Even here the recruiting officers report that only one adult male out of every five or six of army age is fit for military service. In the sole district where an actual enumeration has occurred, out of a population of 25,000 there were 1,007 births and 1,101 deaths.

The two principal scourges of the African native in his own home are social diseases and malaria. Malaria appears to be the chief cause of infant mortality. Pneumonia and tuberculosis are also devastating scourges. "The spread of tuberculosis being closely associated with the increasing use of alcoholic liquors."

One of the most significant and disturbing features of this gloomy array is the evidence of a rapidly decreasing birth rate, due to the diseases already mentioned, the sleeping sickness, alcoholism and artificial restriction of births. In case of 588 negro families impartially selected on the Gold coast, 183 were childless and 244 had but a single child. At Dakar 10 per cent of the infants born die at birth and 50 per cent during the first four years.

Aluminum Tramscars
One of the electric tramways companies of Switzerland has built cars of aluminum. One reason for using this metal is that the weight of the car is much lessened and another point is that the painting of the cars lasts much longer, says the Railway Age.

It was found that cars built with iron plates soon showed rusting and the paint suffered much from this. In Zurich, where the method is being tried, this is an important point, as the cars are painted in a light color. In the first place the metal was used for the roofs of the cars, and the result was so satisfactory by reason of the absence of rust that it was decided to go further and to employ it for the body covering of the car and part of the flooring. A metal known as duraluminum is used and it has a small amount of copper added so as to make it harder.

Russia's Sugar Production
The production of sugar in Russia from the harvest of 1924 was originally expected to reach 30,000,000 pounds (1 pound equals 363.4 pounds), but weather conditions immediately after planting seriously impaired the plantations and greatly reduced the yield, reports Economic Life. The combined effects of intense heat followed by prolonged drought, with insect and other damages, reduced the area originally sown from 318,822 desiatines to 272,968 desiatines (1 desiatine equals 2.7 acres), or 14.3 per cent. The original planted area was divided between that on which land, seed, labor and money were furnished by the factories (30,000 desiatines) and that of individual planters who raised crops on shares, sometimes on factory-owned land.

The two principal scourges of the African native in his own home are social diseases and malaria. Malaria appears to be the chief cause of infant mortality. Pneumonia and tuberculosis are also devastating scourges. "The spread of tuberculosis being closely associated with the increasing use of alcoholic liquors."

One of the most significant and disturbing features of this gloomy array is the evidence of a rapidly decreasing birth rate, due to the diseases already mentioned, the sleeping sickness, alcoholism and artificial restriction of births. In case of 588 negro families impartially selected on the Gold coast, 183 were childless and 244 had but a single child. At Dakar 10 per cent of the infants born die at birth and 50 per cent during the first four years.

Aluminum Tramscars
One of the electric tramways companies of Switzerland has built cars of aluminum. One reason for using this metal is that the weight of the car is much lessened and another point is that the painting of the cars lasts much longer, says the Railway Age.

It was found that cars built with iron plates soon showed rusting and the paint suffered much from this. In Zurich, where the method is being tried, this is an important point, as the cars are painted in a light color. In the first place the metal was used for the roofs of the cars, and the result was so satisfactory by reason of the absence of rust that it was decided to go further and to employ it for the body covering of the car and part of the flooring. A metal known as duraluminum is used and it has a small amount of copper added so as to make it harder.

Russia's Sugar Production
The production of sugar in Russia from the harvest of 1924 was originally expected to reach 30,000,000 pounds (1 pound equals 363.4 pounds), but weather conditions immediately after planting seriously impaired the plantations and greatly reduced the yield, reports Economic Life. The combined effects of intense heat followed by prolonged drought, with insect and other damages, reduced the area originally sown from 318,822 desiatines to 272,968 desiatines (1 desiatine equals 2.7 acres), or 14.3 per cent. The original planted area was divided between that on which land, seed, labor and money were furnished by the factories (30,000 desiatines) and that of individual planters who raised crops on shares, sometimes on factory-owned land.

Dempsey-Gibbons Bout June 5

At Yankee Stadium is Rickard's Present Plans—Winner To Meet Harry Wills In September.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 9.—Professing to have implicit confidence in Jack Dempsey's readiness to indulge in a busy summer, Tex Rickard today named the Yankee Stadium as the locale and June 5 as the tentative date of the champion's proposed meeting with Tom Gibbons for the heavyweight championship.

A provision in the articles of agreement, the promoter added, would call for the winner to frolic with Harry Wills "next September," thus indicating that that is our Mr. Rickard's story and he is going to stick to it.

It is no star chamber secret that Wills may not be permitted to box for the title in this section now or at any future date, but Rickard is one who covers all bets. He merely wants to have the Wills bout in his bag in the event that the negro is officially tolerated as a champion principal here.

Furthermore, the dangle of Wills in the background of a Dempsey-Gibbons match is not expected to injure its attendance.

Rickard, therefore, is concentrating all of his attentions upon the Gibbons meeting while Charles L. Henderson, who is making some motions about building a stadium at Long Island City, is frankly in the field for a Dempsey-Wills match only. In addition to deciding upon a tentative date and site, Rickard also has determined that Dempsey and Gibbons will box at night and that both must be on the ground at least a month before the actual proceedings.

He says he has the champion's assurance, giving through his man of business, Jack Kearns, that all will be as our Mr. Rickard wishes.

Henderson also declares that he has been in converse with Mr. Kearns, via the long distance telephone and that he has Jack's heartening assurance that he is not yet obligated to any promoter, Rickard included, to deliver Dempsey at ring side at any given time or for any given bout.

Henderson's reaction to this was to proceed with the construction of his stadium, present plans for which call for a seating capacity of 110,000.

Kearns is expected to arrive in New York about March 10, then the real bidding will begin.

May Answer Ray's Bid.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 9.—Jolie Ray's bid to leave Norm for another meeting at one mile may be answered at the New York Athletic Club games next Saturday, night. It was indicated to day, Norm either will enter the Hunter mile, one of the classic races of the indoor season, or a two mile special in an attempt to further lower Ray's former record for that distance.

Remarkable Find.

While gathering oysters in Toccoa river, Virginia, A. T. Hargrave with tongs on oyster dish. Hargrave on the inside of the dish was a bag of the old Waco line of oysters, blue with a red dot in the center. A natural oyster five inches long and three inches wide had formed on the side of the dish. There were no scars or cracks in the dish.
